

ALL HAT AND NO CATTLE

D. Cooper Getschal

He walks into the joint like he's trying to make a point
That he's the man for every woman there
He's pretty smartly dressed shiny boots and blue jeans pressed
He's got the look that's why the ladies stare

Thinks he's filled with country charm but never set foot on a farm
Prob'ly never spent a minute in a saddle
The only bronco he can ride is that Ford that he's got parked outside
He's All Hat and No Cattle

All Hat and No Cattle
Proof is when he climbs up on the 'lectric bull for battle
Swears that he'll do fine but he gets thrown off every time
Cause He's All Hat and No Cattle

He likes to play the part of a cowboy with a heart
For loving in the moonlight by the river
He knows what to say to try and have his way
But he's an archer whose got an empty quiver

And when he's with the boys he likes to brag about his toys
And all things that he's got sittin in his castle
And when he opens up his mouth I can't believe he's from the south
He's All Hat and No Cattle

All Hat and No Cattle
When the Mrs. figured all this out she told him to skee-daddle
He might bark all right, but honey he ain't gonna bite
He's All Hat and No Cattle

He's a farmer without fields who boasts about big yields
And riding on his brand new John Deere Tractor
He's a rancher without livestock every word is just big crock
When you take into account The BS factor

He's the kind of guy you meet seems like there's something incomplete
Like tryin to get upstream without a paddle
He thinks he's a crack-up but there's nothing there to back it up
He's All Hat and No Cattle

When he speaks you know he's headed right where mushrooms grow
He's All Hat and No Cattle
He can't look you in the eyes when he's tossing all those cow-pies
He's All Hat and No Cattle
